<td>Our guest speaker spoke about information that affects everyone who has a horse trailer and pulls it with a pick up. The laws are against us and the fines and penalties are steep for violating the laws. For example, it is a Felony if you are “out of class”, should the officer pull you over and check your license against your rig. At this point, it seems that the extent of the law can be administered according to the officer.</td>
<td></td>

<tr>
<td>Helen Johnson</td>
<td>Flatbed pickups are to pull into weigh stations! No exceptions! Weight and length are assessed as to which license you need to have. Specifics for WHERE your license plate is placed on your trailer is mandated by law. Being out of compliance can lead to trouble. There is a petition to change the laws and there is work going on to change the laws.</td>

Guest Speaker- Diane Pitzler- Diane Pitzler and her husband are working on changing the laws that govern trailer usage for recreational equestrians. It was a comprehensive talk. She explained that it is a felony if you are “out of class” and which license govern which rigs. The different licenses and classes were discussed. There is a petition out that needs support to change the laws that are unfair to people who have rigs that are over a certain length and weight. She explained that motorhomes and toy haulers are exempt from this law, as they are “recreational.” She explained the different trucks and the different ways California deals with them. For example, a flatbed pick-up truck MUST stop at all weight stations. A $1,000.00 dollar fine for not stopping could be assessed on the driver. Her talk was more than informative. It needs action by all of us that have rigs and haul our horses.
